II.1.4) Short description

Market consultation control valves

Control valves are used to regulate the flow or pressure rate in our gas distribution network. It is a power device which changes the flow rate as the final control element of a process control system. It consists of a valve connected to an actuator that is capable of changing the position of a closure member in the valve in response to a signal from the process control system.

Gasunie wants to get a better impression of the available possibilities in the market regarding (underground) control valves.

With this consultation Gasunie wants to get an impression:

- How many suppliers can offer specific control valves that meet the requirements;
- What are the possibilities that are available within the set of requirements;
- What maintenance options are available;
