II.1.4) Short description

AEB Amsterdam is planning to launch a European tendering procedure for the capture of CO2 from the AEB Amsterdam High Efficiency Power Plant. In advance we would like to know what the market is capable of, what possibilities there are and what points of attention the market parties would like to give us.

The main questions are whether the market can deliver what we want, whether there is interest and whether interested parties have sufficient capacity to tender and execute the contract.

This will allow us to select the suitable contract and commercial model, in order that the tender procedure will ensure successful award and execution of the project.
