

Short update on trainings and online closures Shiraka EES project 2020

Online Training Morocco- Phase IV:

From the 23rd of November-31st of November the Moroccan participants of the Shiraka EES project attended several online sessions, among which sessions with entrepreneurs (who were part of Orange Corners programme), representatives from different ministries, the Advisory Board and the Dutch embassy. They presented their action plan to different stakeholders and received valuable feedback. The programme also consisted of sessions where the team worked on the further development of their action plan, including via a project management training session.

Online closing event Tunisia Phase VI:

The closing event of the EES programme in Tunisia took place on the 26th of November online. At this event the Tunisian team presented their two action plans to different stakeholders, among whom representatives of different ministries, the embassy, advisory board members and other stakeholders (including the World Bank). The two action plan teams received valuable input and it opened up opportunities for further collaboration. There was also space to discuss the impact of covid-19 on the Tunisian eco system and the need to further nurture the Tunisian eco system. After the closing event a Face to face and online training took place on crowdfunding and project management to further support the teams in the development of their action plans.
