Erftoegangsweg type I

Gebiedsontsluitingsweg

A photograph of a long, straight gravel path that stretches into the distance. The path is flanked on both sides by a row of tall, bare trees, likely beeches, which are planted in a regular, grid-like pattern. To the left of the path is a narrow canal with a grassy bank. To the right is a grassy field. In the background, some houses and more trees are visible under a clear blue sky. The lighting suggests it's a sunny day, with long shadows cast by the trees onto the path.

Erftoegangsweg type II polderweg

Vrijliggend fietspad

A photograph of a paved road lined with bare trees, with a canal on the right and buildings in the background. The road is straight and leads into the distance. The trees are tall and without leaves, suggesting a cold season. On the right side of the road, there is a narrow canal or ditch. In the background, there are several buildings, including a large one with a blue and white facade on the right. The sky is overcast and grey.
