

An aerial photograph of Graffunder College. The building is a large, multi-story structure with a complex, interconnected layout. It features a prominent circular section at the top with a flat, light-colored roof. The main body of the building has a dark grey roof with several smaller, flat-roofed extensions and courtyards. One of the courtyards in the center contains some trees. The building is surrounded by greenery, including trees and lawns. A paved road or driveway runs along the left side of the building. The name "GRAFFUNDER COLLEGE" is visible on one of the lower wings of the building.

