Title:	Water as Leverage Academy 2027 cooperation between NL and Florida
Description:	This WaL-A assignment deploys a team of experts with professional and practical experience that goes beyond organising a set of visits and presentations, but has the capacity to develop a structured, but time-efficient learning exchange, deep-diving into Dutch cases that are relevant for key counterparts in South Florida, particularly Miami-Dade County, and vice versa, delivering outputs for the City of Rotterdam, next to the Ministry of IenW. As part of this Water as Leverage Academy partnership, Rotterdam offers experience in translating a climate adaptation agenda into multi-benefit interventions, implemented through existing urban investment processes. These areas create opportunities for reciprocal learning with Miami-Dade County, Within the 2027 Academy activities, key counterparts jointly examine how climate resilience and water management strategies are translated into inclusive, implementable interventions in the city landscape, while connecting to US State and Dutch national policy frameworks and national ambitions around adaptation.
